

Bug Watching

*Dig a hole in the ground and put a small container into the hole. Put a piece of cheese in the container. Bugs will smell the cheese and crawl into the container. You need to check the trap every day, look at the bugs, and let them go.

*Another way to watch bugs is to set out sugar cubes and within a short period of time bugs will be attracted to the sugar.

*Take a bigger plastic container, put damp soil in bottom, and go look for snails in your yard. Look around leafy, wet areas. Put them in your snail container and give them fresh lettuce and weeds. Make sure you leave the lid off so they get air. Watch the snails and let them go.
