

Better late than never.

This saying means that it's better that something happens late than not at all.

Don't cry over spilled milk.

This saying means once something is done or lost, you should not worry about it.

Don't judge a book by its cover.

This saying means the way something or someone looks may not tell you much about what they or it's really like.

Practice what you preach.

This saying means that you should act the way you tell others to act.

Two heads are better than one.

This saying means that if you are having trouble with a task ask a second person for their help.

Where there's a will there's a way.

This saying means if you want to do something badly enough you'll find a way to do it,

You can't teach an old dog new tricks.

This saying means once you get used to doing something in a certain way, it becomes very hard to learn a different way to do it.

Back to the drawing board.

This saying means something you are doing isn't working out, so you start over.

The Third Book of Sayings

Book of Sayings

Where there's a will there's a way.